CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT IN 1864
ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
Navajo Depredations.

Two weeks since we asked the New Mexican to give us proof in reference to the statement that the Navajo Indians who are at the Bosque Redondo had committed depredations upon the people of the Territory and it, last week, published as a reply to us the following:

A summary statement, containing the robberies and captures made and committed by the Navajo Indians in the county of Rio Arriba, prepared by me the Probate Judge of said county, August 16, 1864.
59 Cattle including oxen and cows $1,545.00
10 Horses, including mares - - - 1,720.00
1 Mule - - - - - 50.00
1 Burro - - - - - 25.00
Property stolen from houses - - 50.00
$3,190.00

This statement is certified to as being correct by the Probate Judge of Rio Arriba county.

After publishing the above, the New Mexican asks us with a flourish, if we "want more proof." In reply we say yes, we do want more proof. Not that proof of this kind has any bearing on the question at issue but we do like to let the people see these statements in order that they may realize the difference between their present condition and that in which they found themselves a year or two ago. We do not say that the Navajos are running at large in their own country will not steal. On the contrary we, as well as every person else, know they will steal and the object in putting them on the Reservation is to prevent them from doing that very thing, and put it out of their power to do any other of their accustomed wrongs.

Besides the above kind of proof we would like to see, if it be in the possession of the New Mexican, some that goes to substantiate the charge that the reservation Navajos have at any time committed depredations of any kind upon the property of the people. That is what we want to see.

According to the above statement the citizens of Rio Arriba County lost last year at the hands of the Navajos $3,190.00 worth of property. That is quite a severe loss and would not have occurred had the Indians been on the Pecos far away from the town of Abiqui. But let us recur to the affairs of last year in Rio Arriba county. In the New Mexican of the 17th January 1863, may be seen a statement of the Indian depredations committed up to Dec. 31st, and in the statement it will be seen that Rio Arriba county lost;

Three men killed and one wounded.
Eighty four Horses, 101 cattle, 40 sheep, 213 goats, 3 burros, 4 colts and 22 mules all of which are estimated at the value of $10,371.25. The difference between this amount and that reported for the last year is $7,181.75 and the people of Rio Arriba county can safely conclude that they have saved that amount of money in consequence of the large portion of the tribe having been removed to the Bosque Redondo and can reasonably estimate that they would have not lost property to the value of one cent if the entire tribe were at the reservation.

The footing up of the table of losses for that year shows that the Territory sustained a loss of $247,024.17 in property, and that there were eighty persons murdered and forty six wounded. This is immense, and it was said by Knapp, Aray and those who are now attempting to raise a tempest in a teapot over the favorable condition in which the Territory is found, that the losses for the year 1863, were greater than they were the year mentioned above.

This year we have heard of a few thefts in Rio Arriba county in the North West part of the Territory committed by the Navajos, and some robberies in the county of San Miguel committed by the Apaches, who also killed five or six persons near Chaparrita. With this, so far as we have been informed, winds up the chapter of losses of life and property for the current year and the people have reason to thank Providence that so wise a forecast has been observed in the military management of their affairs in connection with the Indians and that they have passed the year as prosperously and can have in anticipation many more years of peace and prosperity so far as the Navajos are concerned.

From the report of Capt. Davis, which we publish to-day, it will be seen that he and his command arrived at the Cimarron at an opportune season to render aid to the trains that were being harassed by the Indians. He has been doing good service in that quarter and, we understand, he will remain out until further orders.

The forces on this end of the road are deemed sufficient to protect it from any further danger from the attacks of Indians upon the mail or trains going in either direction.

We are under many obligations to our friends in various parts of the Territory for the liberality with which they have for several months patronized us with subscriptions. At as early a day as practicable it is our intention to give the Gazette an entire new dress and enlarged its size in order to enable us to more fully meet the approbation of the reading public of New Mexico. This may be done next week.

GOOD TEMPLARS:—The veterans of Co. "A", 1st Infantry, California volunteers, have organized a Lodge of Good Templars under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of California.

The principal object of this order is to promote the cause of temperance among its members and we have no doubt but the example thus set by Co. "A" will be followed by other veteran companies. If so we will take pleasure in chronicling the fact in our columns.

CABINET MAKING:—Those who wish to purchase or have made to order, furniture of any kind will do well to read the advertisement which appears in our columns to-day, of Mr. Frank Macdonald.

LAGER BEER:—The place to get good Lager Beer is at the Pacific Brewery. See advertisement.

Gen. Crocker arrived in the city on Wednesday in the coach from the States.

The Red Man of Agar has arrived. He will give his first exhibition on to-morrow, Sunday, night. The place will be announced by hand bill.

On Thursday a very heavy rain fell in this city and the weather since has been quite cold for the season of the year.

The reports of Col. Davis and Capt. McCabe published to-day will be found interesting.

Pursuit of Indians.
CAMP NEAR TULORESO N. M.,
September 2, 1864.

GENERAL:—I beg leave to inform you of my movements since my letter of the 27th ult. On the morning of the 28th ult. I started with 25 men of Co. "L", most of them on foot, and entered the Cañon del Alamo 15 miles North of Dog Cañon marching along the Rio Alamo for a few miles and then ascending the mountain. The ascent was laborious and occupied several hours. Maj. Chacon's command was along, and although he did not formally assume command of my company, he took the direction of affairs into his own hands.

About 1 P. M. the command reached a small stream running South in the mountains, where we nooned. Same afternoon we marched to a point within 12 miles of Sacramento river and about ten miles from the battle field. Here we encamped without fires and started at day break next morning but owing to the bad trail we reached the Peak about 3 P. M. Here we halted, and I sent out spies. We took half a company and searched for Lieut. Gilbert's remains, and his body was found where it fell neither scalped nor mutilated.

My Navajo Indian spy says that the reason why Lieut. Gilbert was not scalped is because the warrior who shot him was himself killed in the fight, and he only had a right to do it. He says, moreover, that he saw the leader of the Apaches shot by private (now corporal) Ortega of my company.

Lieut. Gilbert was buried with appropriate military honors. His grave is on a crest of the highest peak of the Sacramento Mountains, overlooking the great range of the Sierra Oscura and Andres Mountains, N. and W. and Rio Grande, Franklin, and the Guadalupe range to the South West. We raised a small monument of stones over his resting place and his name is cut in a soft stone and placed fronting the trail leading to Sacramento River.

A party of citizens from Tuloreso started with us against the Indians. They were led by Mr. Gregory. On the 30th we reached Sacramento River and found that the Indians had left a quantity of mutton behind them at that place, and that it appeared to have been a village of theirs for some time before.

I here sent out five citizen spies under Mr. Gregory to look for signs and report to me. Before they returned Maj. Chacon moved and started to return to Tuloreso. I heard his guide tell him that the sign was old and that it was a great distance to water. Provisions were scarce also, and most of the animals were giving out. The command reached this place on the 31st. We passed through a beautiful country well watered, splendid timber, and excellent grazing. I never saw ranker vegetation in my life than I saw in the valleys—nor finer water. Wild oats are abundant, and animals on a regular campaign would improve here.

Major Chacon left here yesterday for Fort Stanton with his command. Lieut. Higdon very promptly forwarded rations for my command, which met me at this point and I have determined to enter the mountains again in a day or two and endeavor to chastise the bloody Apaches. I am induced to take this step because I think the Apaches will not leave these mountains to go below, having perhaps a knowledge that a company has taken the field against them. If the remainder of my company was here with me, and I had authority to operate against the Apaches that long, I would have great hopes of breaking up the band in two months.

This would be a splendid point for a station. Supplies are cheap and abundant, and it would command the entrance to the mountains, viz: Dog Cañon, Alamo Cañon and the three rivers, points where the Indians must be obliged to pass through, whether setting out on or returning from their raids.

I left Fort Sumner on the 6th August with 43 men and six Navajo warriors. I have now with me 32 men and three warriors. Three of the Navajos being on foot gave out in Sierra Oscura Mountains and returned to Sumner.

One private is killed, one wounded, four deserted and five are sent on to Fort Stanton sick.

The three Navajos still with me are good and reliable warriors. One in particular who was with Lieut. Gilbert's party is a brave fellow, and was with first to reach me with the news of the fight.

Hoping this information will be acceptable, I remain General.

Very respectfully, your obdt. servt.

COMMANDING OFFICER,
Fort Union, N. M.:

I have the honor to report that near Red River I met four trains returning who reported that a train had been attacked, taken, and five men killed on lower Cimarron. I offered the train escort but they declined returning. Near Palo Blanco met Shoemaker's train, who returned with me. At Arroyo Gugo's met Waters, train with two others. Waters returned, the others declined. Near Rabbit tier met Tamon's train that had come through. Reported having been attacked near upper crossing of Cimarron, losing one hundred and thirty mules. The freight was being brought in by returning ox trains. Found the remains of the five men at lower Cimarron, scattered over the prairie, which I had buried. On my arrival here to-day, found camped, two trains for Fort Lyon, one for Fort Garland, one for Fort Union and one citizen train for Taos. These trains while in camp here on the 21st inst. were attacked by Indians, killing the wagon master of contractor's train, Fort Union, No. 48, taking all the oxen of that train and about one hundred head from the others.

I have sent Capt. Butcher to escort these trains to Fort Lyon. Enclosed please find copy of his orders. With the aid of Shoemaker's train and Waters' train, will take the Fort Union train to Fort Larned. Will endeavor to have the freight sent forward as soon as possible.

Although I did not see any Indians on the Cimarron route, found trails of large parties that are evidently watching the road. It will not be safe for trains without escort. Unless otherwise ordered I will remain at Fort Larned to await the arrival of trains reported en route, and escort them on my return to Fort Union.

Capt. Hardee with a company of Colorado Volunteers arrived here from Fort Larned, the attack having been reported from them.

Report of Col. Davis.

INSPECTOR GENERAL'S DEPT. N. M.
Corralitas Chihuahua Aug. 28, 1864.

CAPTAIN:

I have the honor to report for the information of the Department Commander, briefly, the movements of my expedition to this date, as follows:

After leaving "Cook's Spring" on the 6th inst. as you were informed, I proceeded to the Florida Mountains, thence to "Los Ojos de las Ajuntas" (Palomas Lake) thence to Carrasilla Spring, thence to Mosquito Springs, thence to Spring of Alamo Huaco, (west side of Hatcher Mountains.) From here I organized two parties with pack animals. With one I examined Hatcher Mountains to the North end, and Capt. Whitlock with the other crossed la Sierra de las Animas, to the West side, examining this range, and on the 6th day these parties assembled at the camp of the wagons, some four miles East of the Spar Mountains, and fifteen miles South West of Alamo Huaco, as previously ordered. From this camp we examined the Cañons of Las Espaldas, distant some ten miles. My next camp was at the mouth of a Cañon, East side of la Sierra de la Media, distant fourteen miles nearly South from my last camp. Hence I moved to the Palatado river, sixteen miles South by East, and nine miles North West from Janos, where is my present camp, which I left on the 26th inst. for this place for supplies.

Tomorrow Capt. Whitlock moves camp to the Corraline river near Janos and I return from here.

Don José Mariano Zuloaga, the principal man in this section of country and proprietor of this Hacienda and the mines in this vicinity, has been very kind in furnishing the supplies required, and in his attentions to us. Don Juan M. Zubizarri accompanied me to this place whence he leaves for El Paso, much to my regret. He has been of great service to me as interpreter and in obtaining information of the country and Indians.

We have marched nights, through rough Cañons, over steep and rocky mountains, and traversed extensive valleys and, I regret to say, without catching one Indian. Twice only have we come near catching small parties of them. The section of country through which we have moved bears evidences of having been, not long since, the habitation of numerous Apaches. From some cause it is now almost entirely deserted by them. Old and well beaten trails checker the valleys, wind through Cañons and cross the Mountains in all directions.

We have passed over an almost unlimited extent of fine grazing country, and visited many springs of excellent water.

I propose going down the Janos river and thence to Baer Grande Mountains, perhaps to Lake Guzman. [No Indians have visited Janos or this place for a long time.] Thence to a range of hills North of Hatcher Mountains, and with sufficient encouragement of finding Indians, and good guides if to be had, I may proceed to the East side of the Chiricahui Mountains.

I have been not a little annoyed and confused by the deceptions and obstinacy of my principal guide.

My command is well and the animals as good as when they left Las Cruces.

Bears and deer have been seen and some shot, when men were allowed to kill them.

I am Captain very respectfully your obdt. servant,
